English Speaking Lawyers in Thailand

Prepared by British Embassy, Bangkok

www.gov.uk/world/thailand

The following list of English speaking lawyers has been prepared by the British Embassy in Bangkok for the convenience of British nationals who may require legal advice and assistance in Thailand. It is provided on the understanding that we the British Embassy in Bangkok do not assume or undertake any legal responsibility, to you, or those affected, if you choose to take it into account when instructing a local lawyer.

Further and alternatively, we cannot accept any liability to any person or company for any financial loss or damage arising from the use of this information or from any failure to give information.

Our aim is to provide our customers with as much relevant information to enable them to make better informed decisions but our lists are not recommendations and should not be treated as such.

Advisory note about the legal profession in Thailand

There is no restriction on any Thai national, with or without a law degree, to offer you legal advice. However, only lawyers accredited with the Lawyers' Council of Thailand are licensed to give you legal advice and represent you in a court of law in Thailand. These licences are restricted to Thai nationals only who have received appropriate qualifications and training and they must follow professional ethics and their code of conduct.

Foreign nationals, regardless of their qualifications and licence to practice in other countries are not permitted to provide advice or represent you within the Thai legal jurisdiction but can obtain a limited licence with an appropriate permit entitling them to offer advisory services in foreign and international law (i.e. become a foreign legal consultant)

The Lawyers' Council of Thailand and the Thai Bar Association are responsible for regulating those lawyers who are their members. If you wish to complain about your lawyer conduct you may submit your concerns directly with them. Similarly, you may contact the appropriate authority of any foreign national lawyer operating in Thailand within the country that they are regulated.
